

The Ministry of Health this Wednesday confirmed five new cases of coronavirus, bringing the total of tested positive cases to 110, but seven have already been discharged after full recovery and no deaths has been recorded from the disease in the country.

The first four patients who recovered from covid-19 were discharged over the weekend and another three patients were discharged on Tuesday April 7.

On Sunday, while the first four were discharged, the Ministry of Health reported two new cases, the following day one case was diagnosed while on Tuesday April 7 no case was identified.