

The Ministry of Environment launched Rwanda's new electronic certificate system for land registration known as e-Title.

The system will improve service delivery, address title loss and damage and help realise the goal of "zero trips, zero paper" for land transactions.

With the new e-Title system, land titles will be provided immediately following the Registrar's approval. The landowner will receive a notification with a link to download and save a digital copy of their land title. (End).